The Adopt-a-Book and Adopt-a-Manuscript Page schemes

Why not help to secure the work of Lincoln Cathedral Library for future generations? For as little as £25, you can adopt one of the printed books in the Library, or a page from a medieval manuscript, in your own name, or perhaps in memory of a loved one or to celebrate a special occasion. For further details, pick up a leaflet in the Cathedral, or visit the Cathedral website on

Lincoln Cathedral LIBRARY

Tours

The Medieval and Wren Libraries are open to the public from the beginning of April until the end of October each year. Opening times are Monday to Friday 1pm - 3pm and Saturdays 11am - 3pm during April, May June, September and October. During July and August only we are open between 11am and 3pm Monday to Saturday. Before visiting it is advisable to check the Cathedral website (www.lincolncathedral.com) for any alterations to the normal times. Entry to the library at these times is included in the Cathedral entry price.

If you would like to visit the library outside normal opening hours or at other time of year, and you belong to a club or society or simply have a group of interested friends, or wish to treat someone, why not book a private tour of the Cathedral Library?

During your one hour visit you will hear about the history and architecture of the 15th century medieval chained library and the 17th century Wren library. The growth of the library's rich collection of early printed books and manuscripts will be described and you will be introduced to some of the interesting characters involved with the two libraries over the years. At the end of your tour there will be time to view a selection of the rare books and manuscripts.

A one hour tour costs £5 per person payable in advance. The maximum number that can be accommodated in a group is 20. Please note that the library is on the first floor and there is currently no disabled access.

How to book: Please telephone the Library on 01522 561640 or email librarian@lincolncathedral.com to check availability and to discuss details. Once arrangements have been confirmed, please complete and return the attached form before your visit. The library can currently only accept payment by cheque.
