THE CHAPTER LETTER

Sunday 30 September to Saturday 13 October 2018

Christine Wilson, Dean Sal McDougall, Precentor Paul Overend, Chancellor John Patrick, Subdean Rachel Revely, Curate

On the 27th September, the church remembers Vincent de Paul. He had been educated by a Franciscan order and was ordained in 1609. However, it was not until his conversion experience in 1620, that Vincent de Paul truly understood God's call upon his life. He went onto found communities for men and along with Louise de Marillac, helped to begin the first community of women not to be enclosed and which was devoted to caring for the poor and sick and dedicated his own life to the same. He was focused on bringing relief to galley slaves, tending for the sick and needy and taking care of those who lived in poverty. He was seen as saintly in his own lifetime.

And if there was ever a saint who matched their set gospel reading, it is Vincent de Paul: 'I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you gave me clothing, I was sick and you took care of me, I was in prison and you visited me.' This gospel invites us just like it did Vincent de Paul to look at those around us and see Christ, and not just to see Christ but to also serve Christ.

If we allow ourselves to see Christ in all around us, those in need, those we see on the periphery of our society, who do not conform with what we expect, we start to be able to see the Christ in ourselves. Through our striving after the common good, we see our commonality that we are all beloved children of God.

And as we journey through Creation season and move into a time when we celebrate Harvest when we give thanks for all we have and for the gifts that God has given us. This image of the Christ in all who we see and serve can provide the underpinning of our thankfulness. We live in a place of abundance yet where food banks are now a norm and people struggle to feed their families on a daily basis. We are witnesses to a chasm forming between the privileged and not privileged which does not reflect the kingdom values that we as Christians are called to uphold: values of radical equality, love and justice.

This harvest we see the work of food banks ever more needed, across Lincoln and our whole diocese. What are you doing to support that work, and to bring about the harvest of the kingdom of God?

Rachel Revely, Curate

Carolyn & Peter Kendall write: we would like to pass on our heartfelt thanks to you all for your prayers, messages and support during the recovery of our daughter Elizabeth Lee following neurosurgery in May this year.
