

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL

ACCESSIBILITY GUIDE

UPDATED AUGUST 2024

WELCOME

Welcome to Lincoln Cathedral; a place of worship and pilgrimage for 950 years. Services still take place every day and we are open 363 days a year for visitors to experience this beautiful historic building, and we hope that you take away wonderful memories of your time in Lincoln.

The cathedral's ground floor footprint (with the exception of smaller chapels) is fully accessible for wheelchair users, and we do all we can to cater for specific access requirements.

Should you require further information or additional assistance, please contact us so that we may help you to plan your visit.

Please note: Steep Hill, which connects the city centre with the cathedral quarter is not accessible for those with mobility needs or wheelchair users. This is due to the cobbled ground and steep incline.

The image shows the interior of Lincoln Cathedral, a large Gothic-style church. The view is from the nave, looking down the length of the cathedral towards the altar. The architecture features tall, slender columns supporting a high, ribbed vaulted ceiling. Stained glass windows are visible on the side walls, and the floor is made of stone tiles. The lighting is soft and even, highlighting the intricate details of the stonework.

ARRIVAL

There is level access from Minster Yard to the main entrance. Minster Yard is predominantly cobbled.

The entrance doorway is narrow. Should you require wider access, please contact a member of staff, by calling 01522 561600 or by visiting the welcome desk. They will be able to assist by offering an alternative entrance.

Upon entry, automatic glass doors open towards you, providing access into the cathedral.

WELCOME DESK

Information leaflets are available in a number of languages and in large print.

A portable hearing loop is available.

Ear defenders are available in adult and child sizes

Wheelchairs are available to use at no cost.

The cathedral operates an admission charge 10am – 4pm Monday to Saturday and 11.30am to 2.30pm on Sundays. Carers and companions enjoy complimentary admission.

EXPLORING THE CATHEDRAL

The cathedral floor is flat; however, it is uneven in places due to the nature of the medieval stonework.

Seating is available throughout the cathedral by use of benches and chairs. Visitors may also sit on the stone ledges in the Nave.

Ramps are located throughout the cathedral to allow level access into the aisles and St Hugh's choir.

Small chapels are inaccessible to those unable to use steps due to the historic fabric of the building.

GUIDED TOURS

Upper floor tours involve climbing between 150 and 350 steps.

No under 14s are permitted.

A health and safety sheet must be read and agreed to, prior to joining a tour.

Visitors with pacemakers are not permitted to join a tower tour due to frequency interruptions relating to proximity to radio transmitters.

Tours for visitors with vision impairments are available - pre-booking is essential.

VISITOR CENTRE

The flooring is flat and made from light coloured stone.

Dark contrast barrier mats are positioned by external doors to reduce slip hazards.

Walls are mainly stone or white in colour. The walls in the café snug and exhibition gallery are blue.

Glass doors have contrast etching.

An evac chair is available on the first floor.

EXHIBITION GALLERY

A glass door opens away from you and may be operated by a staff member or volunteer.

There is low lighting in the Exhibition Gallery.

Interactive audio-visual display screens are positioned at a low level. Audible interpretation can be heard via wired handsets and all displays are subtitled.

An automatic sliding door opens into the cathedral shop.

Volume controls are available on all Audio-Visual displays (with the exception of the introduction video which is pre-set). Staff and volunteers are able to adjust the volume if required.

Contrast levels are pre-set. Text panels are set in two contrasting colours.

All displays are at the required height for wheelchair users.

DISCOVERY CENTRE

A shallow incline ramp provides access into the Discovery Centre.

Audio-visual displays and interactive displays are at low level wheelchair access.

COURTYARD

Double, manual swing glass doors open outwards into the courtyard, which features flat paving throughout. Functional outdoor furniture may be moved to suit needs.

Double, manual swing glass doors open inwards into the cathedral shop.

A shallow stone lip returns to interior stone floor.

CATHEDRAL CAFÉ

A single width full-length glass fire door separates the café snug from the corridor. The door is kept open and is on an automatic close in the event of fire.

The flooring is hard wood.

Furniture is not fixed and may be moved to suit access requirements.

Tables are square/rectangular and have central bases.

A range of table heights is available.

Tables seat two or four people but may be adjusted to create larger table areas. Water is available for service dogs.

CATHEDRAL SHOP

Stock is presented at a range of heights.

Staff are always available to provide support if required.

A low level till counter is available.

Automatic doors open outwards into the Dean's Green.
